

Below is a drawing of 3 geostationary satellites (R,S,and T). What is the communication delay when someone from point A calls someone at point B? Radio signals travel at roughly the speed of light (186,000 miles per second).

